

Project-Based Learning
Institute

Learning By Doing

June 27–30, 2011

Ben Davis High School
1200 North Girls School Road
Indianapolis, IN 46214

How can I use project-based learning to increase student success?

Discover how to:

- Integrate PBL practices into any classroom
- Create project-based instructional units and school implementation plans
- Explore school structures and cultures that support PBL
- Integrate research and resources for project-based teaching and learning
- Build a network of project-based schools, teachers, and advocates

Ideal for:

School leaders, teachers, and media specialists in primary, middle, secondary, and postsecondary classrooms.

Institute: June 27-30

- The institute immerses educators in the project-based learning approach through three days of hands-on exploration and implementation.

Registration:

- $250 per person (March 1–May 31)
- $350 per person (June 1–15)
- School teams of five or more people qualify for a 20% discount

Register at:

education.iupui.edu/soe/institute/

Sponsored by:

CENTER OF EXCELLENCE
IN LEADERSHIP OF LEARNING

IUPUI

